S.C. Glove Factory May Join R.C. Plants In Forced Shutdown

As leather inventories continued to dwindle in factories Tuesday under an OPA price freeze, one additional plant in the Redwood City area was faced with a shut-down.

It is the Acme Glove Co., at 1168 El Camino Real, San Carlos, which employs 10 leather workers. It has cut its force 60 per cent and faces complete stoppage within a week, plant officials said.

Meanwhile L. A. Johnson, president of National Motor Bearing Co., appealed directly to Paul Porter, OPA administrator, warning him that unless the deadlock between OPA and meat packers is broken within the next day or two, the entire automobile and farm machinery industry faces a shut-down.

The Van Wert, O., plant of the National Motor Bearing Co., has a two-week supply of leather, necessary for making oil seals, vital part of automobiles and tractors. The Redwood City plant, also employing 400, has a week's supply.

Johnson pointed out that tanners require three weeks to process hides after they are received from meat packers. Since most National Motor Bearing customers — including Ford, GM Trucks and Chevrolet — carry about a month's supply of oil seals, the leather shortage may spread plant closings like a forest fire, Johnson said.

"That will be too late," Johnson warned. "We must have relief immediately."

Only bright spot in the local picture came from Jay-Dee Leather Products Co. in Redwood City. Charles Weeks, president of the firm, said that the company, anticipating a shortage in leather supplies, had succeeded in purchasing large inventories earlier this year. There is ample on hand to protect the jobs of employes and the firm sees no immediate leather supply problem.

The refusal of meat packers to sell hides at the 13½ cent OPA ceiling threatens closing of leather processing and manufacturing firms throughout the nation, it was explained. Hide dealers protest that there has been no increase in OPA hide ceilings since Pearl Harbor and they have refused to sell at the prescribed figure. Hides advanced 100 per cent in price during the OPA holiday.

S.C. Lumber Co. Burglarized

Burglars broke into the San Carlos Lumber Co., on El Camino Real Friday and made off with $79 in cash, the San Carlos Police Department reported today.

The burglars cut their way through a six-foot wire fence off the highway with bolt cutters, and jimmied a back door of the office building with a bar, to gain entrance.

Seek Death Cause

Coroner's deputies and Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter H. Moore Tuesday began an investigation into the death of Mrs. Fay Gelb, 38, 703 Vista Dr., Redwood City, who died at Community Hospital at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Gelb was admitted to the hospital at 10 a.m. Monday. She did not regain consciousness.

A post-mortem examination was to be scheduled Tuesday by Dep. Coroner John Layng.

Moore said he knew nothing concerning circumstances of her death, but that he was notified by the hospital Tuesday morning. Mrs. Gelb's husband had been a visitor at the hospital Monday and Tuesday, but has not yet talked to authorities.

'Nothing New' In Phone Tieup

Tom Brain, president of the independent Assn. of Communications Equipment Workers, today reported "nothing new" in the jurisdictional dispute which has halted work on nine Bay Area telephone buildings the past week.

AFL building trades men walked off their jobs at the new buildings, including one in Redwood City, after AFL electricians claimed the ACEW was doing "building trades work."

ACEW members have continued to install dial telephone equipment in the Redwood City building on Wilson St. where 80 per cent of the structure is completed.

MENLO PARK — A 14-year-old Menlo Park girl suddenly left home Saturday night, caught a taxi to the bus station, and boarded a bus for Los Angeles. She was picked up there last night by police after they had been notified of her probable arrival time by the Menlo Park Police Dept.

Parents of the girl could give police no explanation for the girl's action. Officer George Potter traced the girl's progress to the southbound bus and then notified the Los Angeles police by teletype. Her parents are making arrangements to bring her back.

3 Youths Jailed

Two Redwood City brothers and their cousin were in the county jail here today on charges of disturbing the peace after they allegedly caused a commotion at Johny's Cafe, 3001 El Camino Real, south of Redwood City, last night.

Joseph Alaimo, owner of the tavern, told sheriff's deputies he had refused them drinks and that they came back later in the evening and started throwing liquor glasses. Alaimo suffered a cut on the lip.

Arrested were Milton Milbourn, 22, engineer, and Gerald Milbourn, weatherstrip mechanic, both of 26 Center St., both of whom were charged with disturbing the peace and booked en route to the U.S. marshal, and a cousin, Earl Milbourn, 302 Center St.

Blom to Probe Need For Parking Meters, May Convert Park

BY NITA REIFSCHNEIDER

Councilman Floyd D. Granger Monday night presented what appeared to him and members of the Redwood City city council to be a happy solution to the courthouse parking predicament.

As a result of his proposal — promised a week ago, but until Monday shrouded in secrecy — the city council:

1. Asked the city manager for estimates and reports on a combination park-recreation area on city-owned California Square which, in all, would accommodate 184 automobiles in addition to providing recreation space;

2. Order immediate elimination of the present two-hour parking limit on the south side of Marshall St. in the rear of the courthouse.

3. Requested the city manager to report on feasibility of parking meters.

Granger led off his speech with the declaration that the parking problem, which led some county officials to start a "move the courthouse" campaign, was "not as bad as it might appear."

He congratulated City Mgr. E. W. Blom for enforcing parking regulations in the courthouse vicinity at the direction of the council which ordered the crackdown several weeks ago.

Granger said the council had been "fair — year after year." Only two other areas in downtown Redwood City had two-hour limits, he explained.

Compared to other county seats (and he named at least a dozen), Redwood City has no parking problem, the councilman continued. Parking meters are in use at many county seats, he said.

After asking elimination of time limits on the Marshall St. area, Granger proposed the parking-recreation combination on the block bounded by Marshall, Hamilton, Bradford and Winslow Sts.

He illustrated his proposal with a sketch made by Planning Engineer William P. Mott Jr., who was recently hired by the city to master plan park and recreation areas.

Mott approved the idea of using a park for actual parking, Granger said. Blom nodded his approval.

Henry W. Edmonds, San Mateo County supervisor, present as an "interested spectator," said it was a pretty good idea.

Blom, in answer to a councilman's query, said no cost estimate had been prepared, although some of the city's $998,000 bond issue money could be used on the project.

Councilman George McNulty asked if the county would share the cost.

Councilman Chester C. Armstrong said it was "our obligation."

Councilman C. A. Britschgi said, "Let's try to get a little dough out of them if we can."

Edmonds, who emphasized he was speaking for himself, commented: "We don't have to be alarmed by what we've read in the newspapers. . . ." He said the supervisors had never discussed the parking problem, except as individuals, "it's a city problem. . . . I got a ticket once . . . the park now isn't used . . . it's too valuable for the use it is now getting"

Edmonds, himself a former Redwood City councilman, admitted, "I did hear some comment on certain remarks here— maybe in jest — when this matter first came up."

Then Granger proposed parking meters which, he said, might bring the city from $25,000 to $30,000 yearly.

"Sooner or later it's going to happen," he said.

Two of the spaces are to be reserved for 15-minute parking.

With little further discussion, the council approved parking for the deputies, who now have no off-street parking area, to the Marshall St. corner.

Armstrong objected to unrestricted parking on Marshall St. It would be "ineffective," he said.

Meanwhile, Tuesday approximately 20 parking places on Marshall St. gave motorists immunity from overtime parking tags. And County Executive Frederick Peterson, who was among officials paying traffic fines, saw to it that the 36-place parking lot at the rear of the courthouse was reserved for county employes.

A deputy sheriff was today again custodian of a heavy chain that closed off the driveway.

Ravenswood School Board Approves $140,497 Budget

Questions from the floor as to what plans were being made to house the increased enrollment expected in the Fall heckled the Ravenswood School Board Monday night during the final public hearing of the $140,497 budget for next year, but the budget was finally accepted after an hour and a half of discussion.

Several of the 20 residents present questioned the board's right to continue the full use of the $2 tax limit without including plans for building during the coming year. They maintained that the $2 limit was instituted two years ago to support the construction of additional school units, and that in the absence of construction cost expenses the extent of taxation should fall below the $2 limit.

The board replied that its understanding has been that the funds made available through the increase in the tax limit could be used for other school expenses as well as for building. John I. Cleese, board chairman, explained that the board had studied the problem of housing the increased enrollment and had come to the conclusion that it would be more economical to wait until year after next to build a 4 or 5-room unit rather than to build a smaller one now.

The repairs to the buildings now planned are vital to the efficient continuance of the school, the board maintained.

The bids for this work will be opened at a special meeting Monday night at 8 p.m., reported Mrs. Paul Boyer, clerk.

The discussion of the recall election plans, which was scheduled for this meeting, was not held because of the length of the debate on minor details of the budget, but action will be started this week to organize the election which will be held Sept. 10, Mrs. Boyer said.

Army Seeks Dogs For Replacements

The United States Army Remount Service will hold a procurement inspection for 40 working type, male German Shepherd dogs today at the Presidio of San Francisco Veterinary Hospital, according to Col. F. W. Koester, officer in charge of the Western Remount Area.

These dogs will be used for replacements in the reorganization of infantry scout dog platoons, currently depleted in dog strength through the recall of the privately owned wartime "loaned" dogs.

The army is seeking compact, working type, male German Shepherd dogs having bold and aggressive temperaments, free from unsoundness and disease, falling between 1 to 2½ years of age and ranging in height from 22 to 26 inches, weighing 60 to 90 pounds, Colonel Koester stated.

Dogs are required to pass a physical test, "gun shy" test, and to demonstrate a bold and friendly temperament.

Busy Weekend For R.C. Firemen

1. One automobile-garage fire in which a car was totally demolished and a second vehicle was damaged.
2. A trailer fire.
3. Four grass fires — one of which endangered rabbit hutches and nearby buildings.

Yesterday at 2:13 a.m., firemen were called at 447 Alameda de las Pulgas where fire had already gained considerable headway in a garage owned by J. H. Batting.

Battin's car was scorched, Fire Chief Joseph Lodi said, and a 1940 car owned by K. McMcCleod, boarder at the Batting residence, was a total loss. Damage to the garage was estimated at $100.

Lodi attributed the fire to a short in automotive wiring.

At 7:32 p.m. yesterday, firemen extinguished a fire in a rubbish-laden trailer at 36 Arch St., and confined damage to a scorched trailer bed.

Hundreds of residents were attracted to the blaze which for a time sent up house-high flames.

A nearby garage and two houses were endangered by the fire for a short time.

Owner was E. R. Del Monte.

Lodi reprimanded a Gordon St. resident who, while burning without a permit, let flames get into high grass and spread to nearby outbuildings at 2:05 p.m., yesterday.

Telephone Workers May Vote To Choose Bargaining Agent

All telephone company employes in five western states may soon be asked to vote their choice of an industry-wide collective bargaining agent, it appeared Tuesday following announcement that the Telephone Workers Industrial Union (ind.), now being organized here, will petition the National Labor Relations Board on Sept. 1 for such an election.

Leonard Lawson, field organizer of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, parent of TWIU, held an organizing meeting in Burlingame Monday at which he announced the action.

Bargaining rights are now held by more than a dozen independent unions including some NFTW affiliates and the American Communications Association (CIO). The CIO union is organized on the same industry-wide basis proposed for the TWIU, but holds bargaining rights only in some cities of California and Washington.

More than 40,000 workers will be involved in the election, Lawson said.

The TWIU, which has stepped up its organizing drive, appeared to have the upper hand in the fight for the telephone workers, but still faced scattered revolts from independent unions wishing to preserve their autonomy.

One, the Telephone Traffic Employes Organization, has tried to switch its affiliation from NFTW to the ACA-CIO, but is now under temporary restraining order not to count the referendum ballots on the issue. The restraining order was asked in the name of the members of the union at the behest of NFTW.

Lawson said some officers of other independent unions are resisting the drive but predicted acceptance of TWIU by the majority of employes.

Aother meeting will be held in Burlingame in about one month, he said.

Two Persons Hurt In S.C. Accident

Two persons suffered minor injuries and two cars were demolished Monday afternoon in a collision on El Camino Real at Morse Blvd. in San Carlos.

The accident occurred at 3:45 p.m. when James Lauren Dye, 19, 1148 Cambridge St., Burlingame, crashed his autoombile into the rear of one driven by Mrs. Nadine Blondeel, 48, 464 Donahue St., Palo Alto,. Mrs. Blondeel had stopped to make a left hand turn.

Shirley Blodgett, 18, of 1401 Burlingame Ave. and Robert Miller, 20, of 1000 Oak Grove Ave., Burlingame, were taken to Community Hospital in the county ambulance, and were released after treatment for lacerations of the face.

The two wrecked cars were so badly damaged, they blocked traffic for half an hour until they were towed away.

Burlingame Refuses Spastic School Appeal

Burlingame's elementary school board Monday night reluctantly but firmly turned down an appeal that Pershing School be used in the Fall as an education center for San Mateo County's two score spastic children.

The appeal to use part of the facilities of Pershing School for spastic children had come to the board from the crippled children's society via the superintendent of schools of San Mateo County. The board had been told that an exhaustive search had shown that Pershing was the only school in the county available for spastic instruction.

A committee of three, all mothers of Pershing School children, appeared before the board Monday to voice the disapproval of Pershing parents to the county superintendent's request. Mrs. Gladys Czapkay chairman of the delegation, told the board that her committee represented the great majority of Pershing parents and that all who had been contacted were unanimous in disapproving the proposal.

12 Injured In North End Accidents

Twelve persons suffered injuries in three separate automobile accidents in the north end of the county within less than an hour Tuesday afternoon, the California Highway Patrol reported Wednesday.

Nine persons were injured in one accident involving five cars in a rearend collision.

Most seriously hurt in the crash, which occurred on Bayshore Highway north of Geneva Ave., Bayshore City, at 5:10 p.m., was Sister Evangelista, 52, of the IDES Home, Warm Springs, Alameda County. CHP listed her injuries as major. She was given emergency treatment at South San Francisco Hospital and transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

Others injured in the same accident and treated at South San Francisco Hospital were Sister M. Isabel, 69, Warm Springs; Clarence Smith, 30, Milpitas, driver of one of the cars; Beatrice L. Smith, 30; Sharon M. Smith, 5; Catherine Mitchell, 30, Sunnyvale; Dawn Mitchell, 8 months, and Sharon Mitchell, 10.

Drivers besides Smith were D. W. Mitchell, 33, Sunnyvale; Foster Thompson, 30, South San Francisco; M. J. Bennett, 154 Third Ave., San Mateo, and Roy C. Mace, 28, 300 Lexington Way, Burlingame.

In a three-car accident on Bayshore Hwy. 600 feet south of the San Francisco County line at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday, Cecil Mattox, 31, San Bruno, and Crawford Kiser, 48, San Francisco, both drivers, suffered minor injuries. Third driver was Tore W. Bjorkman, 36, San Francisco. All cars were headed north.

Teresa Jackson, 30, Brisbane, suffered minor injuries in an accident at 5:20 p.m. Tuesday at Bayshore Hwy. and Old County Rd., Brisbane, when a car driven by Louis C. Castagnetto Sr., 58, San Francisco, and an ice truck driven by James H. Jackson, 38, Brisbane, collided. Jackson had stopped on Bayshore Hwy. to make a left turn, the CHP reported.

Truck Hits Train, —Damage Zero

A pick-up truck driven by Joseph H. Cunningham, 45, San Bruno contractor, collided with a through passenger train at the Spruce St. crossing Monday, and was driven from the scene with truck and driver intact, police said today.

Cunningham was driving east on Spruce St. when the northbound train struck the extreme rear of the vehicle at 10:52 p.m.

The truck was swung around by the impact and hit a parked car owned by Charles H. King of 416 Vera Ave., Redwood City.

Neither vehicle was badly damaged, police said.

Bully Romance Hit by Suit

Romantic bulls from the ranch of Frank A. Groce of Portola Rd. behind the Stanford Golf Course near Menlo Park, who thought the grass was greener and the heifers more lovely in an adjoining pasture belonging to B. S. Brazil, brought about an $11,950 damage suit in superior court here Wednesday.

Brazil claims that for several years cattle and bulls belonging to Groce escaped into his pasture, damaging his herd and heifers. He cited specifically that in May, 1944, three bulls from Groce's ranch strayed and bred 20 of his yearling dairy and milkstock heifers. Six of the heifers, which Brazil valued at $100 each, died, and 14 had calves of poor quality.

Brazil is asking the court to award him $1950 special damages and $10,000 general damages, and also is asking for an injunction against Groce and the bulls, forbidding the bulls from invading his cow pasture.

Sequoia Hotel To Get Face Lifting

Beauticians, armed with paints and plaster are setting out to give an early Redwood City belle a $10,000 face lifting.

H. H. Weiner of the San Mateo County Realty Co. announced Tuesday that he has taken over management of the Sequoia Hotel, the city's oldest hostelry, and that he intends to completely remodel and renovate the building which has stood on the corner of Main St. and Broadway since its erection in 1912.

Weiner bought the furnishings and the business last week from Mrs. Margaret Annos, who managed the hotel for the past 10 years. The hotel property is owned by George Frank, who purchased it from the Redwood City Hotel Co. last January for a reported price of $115,000.

Weiner, who also operates a San Francisco hotel, said that the complete renovation of the Sequoia Hotel will probably not be accomplished for a year, but work is already in progress to give the building first class accommodations.

Mrs. Rex Robinson will remain as resident manager in the sturdy landmark, a job for many years held by August Fromm Sr., who operated a hotel on the site from 1898 until 1936.

Billy Goat Burglar Refuses Probation, Sentence Doubled

Lawrence Blanchard, 36, San Carlos' "billy goat burglar," who rammed his way through a solid wood fence on June 28, found out Monday afternoon he could not butt his way out of a sentence pronounced by the court.

Superior Court Judge Andrew R. Schottky sentenced Blanchard to 90 days in the county jail and probation, but the human battering ram told His Honor he did not want probation. Without hesitating, Judge Schottky slapped another three months' sentence onto Blanchard and told him that would give him three extra months to read mystery stories.

Blanchard, who was caught attempting to burglarize Harrington's on El Camino Real in San Carlos after he rammed through a fence, had said he got the idea to burglarize some place while listening to the radio.

Blanchard, a Mexican Negro, is believed to be the first person to turn down probation in this county.

Half the United States population rides on one of more of the nation's 89,240 streetcars, trackless-trolley coaches or buses every day in the year.

Negro Sought In Wife Beating

Sheriff's deputies Tuesday were seeking Leon Wilson, 18, Negro, for questioning about an alleged beating given to his wife at Montara Saturday night after she had tried to stop him from gambling.

The wife, Mrs. Frances Mae Wilson, told deputies she called her husband, who she claims was playing dice with his brothers, Fred Wilson Jr., 22, and G. C. Wilson, 21, and told him not to gamble and have more respect for their baby and the mother.

An argument ensued and Wilson was cut by a scout knife which Mrs. Wilson had in her hand. Mrs. Wilson said her husband's brothers told him to beat her "to death" for cutting him. He hit her in both eyes, mouth, jaw and on top of her head, she claimed.

Mrs. Wilson and her 3-month-old son, Leon Jr., were brought to the juvenile home here.

The McEllins were on a vacation trip and on their way to visit a nephew, Claude H. Smith, of West Ely, Nev., when the elder Mr. McEllin was believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel. The large tree hit by the car was sheared at its base. The machine's speedometer jammed at 64 miles an hour, Sheriff R. J. Vannoy of Fallon said.

"Put summer fruits and vegetables on your pantry shelves . . . Can now for winter eating," says Carol Drake

"Home canning is given new significance by the famine emergency abroad. Canning and freezing of fresh produce by individuals are important ways to avoid waste in the foods that are abundant during summer months. You'll help when you preserve for later use some of the surplus from farms, orchards and home gardens. By filling part of your family's winter food needs from your pantry shelves, you'll release vitally needed foods for shipment to families who are hungry."

Add these favorites to your canning cupboard

These recipes using today's surpluses from store and garden can easily add interest and variety to next winter's menus.

TOMATO VEGETABLE SOUP

10 lbs. ripe tomatoes, 6 medium-size carrots, 3 medium-size onions, ½ bunch parsley, 4 stalks celery, 3 medium-size turnips, 2 large green peppers, 3 tbsps. salt, 3 cups water

Scald, peel and cook tomatoes in large kettle until soft, about 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Put other vegetables through food chopper, using coarse knife. Add salt and water. Cook vegetables in another kettle until tender, about 15 minutes. Combine cooked vegetables and tomatoes and cook slowly about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour immediately into sterilized jars, filling to ½ inch from top. Adjust lids. Process in pressure canner for 60 minutes at 10 lbs. pressure. Makes about 6 quarts. Before serving, add 1 to 2 cups water per quart and boil for 10 minutes.

PLUM BUTTER

2 lbs. ripe plums, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed or granulated sugar, 1 tsp. ground cloves, 1 tsp. ground allspice, 1 tsp. ground cinnamon

Wash plums; pit; cut in quarters. Cook with a little water until tender. Sieve and cook until thick. Add sugar and spices; cook about 1 hour, stirring frequently. Pour into hot, sterilized glasses; paraffin. Makes eight 8-oz. glasses.

CORN RELISH

10 ears corn, ½ medium-size head cabbage, 2 large onions, 2 sweet green peppers, 3 sweet red peppers, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ tsp. tumeric, 2 tbsps. mustard, 2 cups vinegar, 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup salt, ¼ cup flour

Cut corn from cob. Wash and drain cabbage; peel onions; stem and seed peppers; grind. Mix sugar, salt, flour, tumeric and mustard in a large kettle; stir in vinegar gradually; heat to boiling, stirring to prevent lumping. Add vegetables and simmer for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Pack in hot, sterilized fruit jars; seal at once. Makes 6 to 8 pints.

Dial Installation Continues

Installation of dial telephone equipment continued without disruption in Redwood City thiss week despite a work stoppage by AFL building trades men at the partly completed telephone building on Wilson St. Wayne Beebe, above was one of 33 men from the independent Association of Communication Equipment Workers Union who stayed on the job during a jurisdictional dispute with AFL electrical workers. R.C. Community Chest to Adopt Red Feather for Its 1946 Campaign

S. D. Herkner, president of the Redwood City Community Chest, disclosed Tuesday that the red feather, national chest symbol, will be adopted for the first time in Redwood City this year. The community chest feather is surrounded by 12 stars, symbolic of the 12 months and standing for year-around serice, he explained.

But why a red feather?

It's quite a story, according to Herkner. It goes back a long way—1355 was the year—and involves the Hawaiian O-O bird.

The Black Prince in 1355 decreed that when one of his knights performed an unusual act of valor or chivalry, a red plume would be placed in his helmet.

Robin Hood's merry men wore red feathers in their caps for each good deed.

Bright feathers were always placed in the helmets of the Magyars in the belief that with these symbols of courage and valor, the warriors could not fail.

In ancient China the feather robe, or Hagoromo, was supposed to insure immortality. According to a former resident of Honolulu, the symbol of royalty worn by the king of Hawaii was a feather robe, made exclusively from the feathers of the O-O (oh-oh) bird. (Look it up in the dictionary—it's a real bird!)

On St. Stephens Day (Dec. 26) fishermen on the Isle of Man still observe an annual religious custom of wearing a wren's feather which is believed to protect them against shipwreck in the coming year.

All this evidence induced the executive committee of the national Community Chest Campaigns to adopt the red feather as the community chest symbol and to register it and copyright it.

This year the red feather will appear in numbers throughout the city as the Redwood City Community Chest campaign for $30,000 gets under way. Printed red feather placards will adorn electroliers and store windows. Real red feathers will be distributed to community chest workers.

County Spending Doubles in 10 Yrs.

San Mateo County government cost $2,964,296 for 1944-45, with $1,299,020 or 44 per cent for charities and corrections, California Taxpayers' Assn. said today, making public its statewide study of county government payments. City and district costs are not included.

Ten years ago, 1934-35, the county government cost $1,427,839, with $535,706 or 38 per cent going for charities and corrections.

Over the state as a whole, county government costs reached $217,818,413 in 1944-45. Charities and corrections took $135,161,691, or 62 per cent.

In 1934-35, county governments throughout the state cost $102,639,555, with $43,995,106 or 43 per cent for charities and corrections.

Preservers Traveled

Two life preservers, of those washed off the deck of the freighter Stanley Dollar, aground in Yokohama Bay, Japan, in 1905, were washed ashore on the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, six years later.

"Village of Long Life"

Villa Ruiva, just outside Lisbon, Portugal, was given the title of "the village of long life," when it saw only three deaths in a recent year. The dead were centenarians, their ages being 101, 104, and 115 years.

Posthumous Medal To Nion Tucker Jr.

Posthumous award of the Silver Star to the late Nion Tucker Jr., first lieutenant in the marine corps, was announced this week.

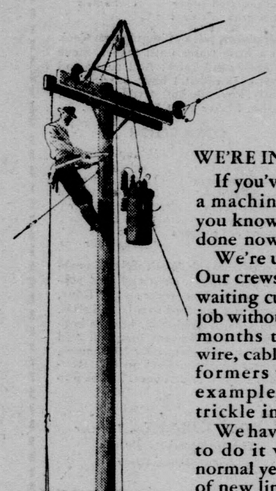
R.C. Actor Plays In Gangster Movie

Jack Conrad, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Conrad of 24 Alameda de las Pulgas, Redwood City, has a gangster part in "The Glass Alibi," Republic picture which will be shown at the Sequoia Theater beginning this week.

Conrad, who plays the role of "Bennie Brandini," attended the University of California at Los Angeles following his graduation from a Cheyenne, Wyo., high school.

He will soon begin work in a Twentieth Century Fox Studio picture, his father said today.

Line Crews are Putting 'em up as fast as Materials Come In



WE'RE IN THE SAME FIX YOU ARE!

If you've tried to build a house, repair a machine or buy a new refrigerator, you know how tough it is to get things done nowadays.

We're up against the same difficulties. Our crews are trained to rush service to waiting customers, but they can't do the job without materials. And today it takes months to get lumber, transformers, wire, cable and other essentials. Transformers we ordered a year ago, for example, are just now beginning to trickle in.

We have more to do and less materials to do it with than ever before. In a normal year we built around 1000 miles of new lines. Pent up demands for service are now greater than at any time in our history. Despite obstacles, we have succeeded in building 1200 miles of line so far this year.

All our energies are devoted to filling the needs of our customers, old and new. We are as eager to give service, adequate service, to all applicants as they are to obtain it. We'll be coming your way as fast as we get materials.

Most everything costs MORE today—

but the cost of ELECTRICITY is DOWN.
